

MARJORIE IDE WEDS UNDER ROSE CANOPY

Daughter of Our Minister to Spain the Bride of Shane Leslie.

MANY CABLES FROM EUROPE

Cockran Long Island Home Beautifully Decorated—A Unique Robert Louis Stevenson Gift.

Under a canopy of pink Killarney roses, Miss Marjorie Ide, daughter of Henry C. Ide, United States Minister to Spain, was married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock to Shane Leslie, a son of Col. and Mrs. John Leslie of London, in the library of The Cedars, the country home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. Bourke Cockran, at Port Washington, L. I.

The house was beautifully decorated throughout with pink roses, and the bridal bower and altar were placed near the entrance to the conservatory. The weather conditions were ideal for a country wedding, and the reception which followed the ceremony was held on the broad porches of the house, with small tables upon the lawn, overlooking the waters of Hempstead Bay.

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin trimmed with old Spanish lace, and her veil was of exquisite Carrickmacross lace, a gift from the brothers of the bridegroom. It was caught up with a chaplet of orange blossoms. She wore the corsage ornament of diamonds and pearls presented to her by the bridegroom's mother, and the diamond necklace, which was a gift from her father. Instead of flowers she carried a prayer book.

Mrs. Cockran, who was her sister's only attendant, wore a pale green taffeta frock, with panniers, and a lace hat trimmed with white pond lilies. She carried a bouquet of pond lilies and lilies of the valley.

Father Gives Daughter Away.

William Seymour Leslie acted as best man for his brother, and Mr. Ide gave his daughter in marriage. The Rev. Father J. A. Carroll, pastor of the Roman Catholic Church at Port Washington, performed the ceremony.

The ushers were Frank Gray Griswold, Peter F. Dunne, J. Norman de R. Whitehouse, and Representative Nicholas Longworth.

After the reception Mr. Leslie and his bride left on their honeymoon. The bride's going-away gown was an embroidered linen, with touches of Irish green. They plan to sail from New York early in July, and will spend the remainder of the Summer in Spain, going later to London, where they will take a house for next season, which will be furnished with many of the gifts which the couple received from European royalty as well as those received from President and Mrs. Taft, and their many friends on this side. A list of the wedding gifts was published in THE TIMES yesterday.

Col. Leslie sailed for England a short time ago. Mrs. Leslie, who returned a few days ago from Canada, and her second son, William S. Leslie, were the only members of the bridegroom's immediate family present. Many cablegrams from Europe and telegrams of congratulation were received before the hour set for the wedding. One of the unique wedding gifts which Mr. Leslie and his bride received, and which were the original fortune telling cards invented and painted for Robert Louis Stevenson while at Samoa by Mrs. Strong, who made the presentation to the bride.
